

CHAPTER 10: THE BUDGET

1. The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time.

Item	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount
Revenue
Expenses
Net Income

The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time. The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time.

The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time.

The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time. The budget is a financial plan for the future. It is a statement of the expected financial position of the organization for a given period of time.